

Cutting edge technology for your trade-fair success

We offer you the entire range of exhibitor technical services—for your stand and throughout the entire trade-fair center, which is one of the most modern in all of Europe. If you have questions about technical services and communications technology at your exhibition stand or need help placing orders, we would be pleased to assist you.

Technical equipment at the highest level

Messe München offers you the highest level of technical convenience. All exhibition halls are partially air-conditioned. All gates and entrances are protected by vestibules regardless of the time of year or the weather. The universal supply of electricity, water and compressed air—combined with a comprehensive system of functional utility ducts in the floor—ensures optimum convenience.

Profit from innovative communications technologies in all halls. Our IT infrastructure for data, voice and video transfer as well as WiFi access guarantees the quick and optimum exchange with your market partners—at the fair and around the world.
