

A rich source of knowledge: congresses at automatica

The automatica, acting as a cross-sectoral driving force, puts various industry sectors in contact to provide answers to market issues as a result of exchange across disciplines. A perfect example is the integration of three trendsetting congresses: International Symposium on Robotics (ISR), OPC Day Europe, and AUTOMOBIL PRODUKTION Congress.

AUTOMOBIL PRODUKTION Congress

The high-profile AUTOMOBIL PRODUKTION Congress evaluated the effects of digitalization and artificial intelligence on automotive production.

ISR robotics conference

The world's leading robotics conference, International Symposium on Robotics, provided insights into the latest developments in robotics with more than 150 presentations.

OPC Day Europe

The OPC Day Europe addressed manufacturer-independent data communication in automation technology—for smooth processes and greater efficiency.
